Customer Reviews

I use this in Music Therapy as a tool for clients who enjoy playing games and have some familiarity with reading music. I made a little "cheat sheet" with an image of a keyboard with the note names on it & laminated it, to give to clients still learning enharmonic notes. I have noticed over the course of two sessions that clients improve their ability to label and identify enharmonic pairs. It is also a tool to focus on memory/cognition.

A great game for the home or your music classroom!
